It is this technology that makes FIFA 22 the most authentic simulation football experience available. With 22 real-life players moving at a complete intensity, in situations that occur during live matches, you will see, feel and smell the passion, pride and dedication. You will know which player is in possession and what they can do when they have it, see your team receive a pass from the goalkeeper, see the defence move to block the ball while the attacking team move into space and get themselves into position. This new tech powered by the groundbreaking Motion Engine delivers the most realistic and authentic experience available and is applied in the following ways: 1) The Player Stance The player stances developed in FIFA 21 are improved in FIFA 22 with an extra stance variability allowing players to adopt a smaller range of stances. These stances will now come to life in a new set of animations using the player motion capture data, with new animations and animations for all 22 player body parts. The new player animation system includes four key elements; Feet, Knees, Hips and Head, each with its own set of animations. Details of the new animations include a wider range of on-ball starting positions, wider range of fall-on stances and new animations for the kicking-off motion. More player control in shooting will be introduced in FIFA 22. 2) The New Player AI - It's All About Flow The Player AI intelligence has been improved to be more reactive to the ball and the surrounding players, along with all player actions. It understands more of the tactics and strategies needed to win games, and uses this understanding to make play-stops in the right moment of attack, defend, movement and passing. FIFA 22 introduces an entirely new AI logic that is improved by the use of the new AI Motion Capture. FIFA 22's AI logic is based on techniques developed in the FIFA Motion Project, the sports simulation industry's first independent motion capture research project. The new EA Sports AI uses a player vision concept and uses player positioning in relation to other players around the ball. The AI now evaluates the ball position and speed, as well as timing to control play-stops and enable accurate and reactive shooting, defending, passing and movement. The AI will anticipate attacks and reacts intelligently in the right moments and the AI controls the orientation and position of players at key moments throughout a match

Features Key:

- Authentic Player Behaviour in Play: The players' tactics, skills, stamina, pace and reactions to both defensive and offensive challenges will now play out in FIFA 22, based on extensive, real-life data about the players' abilities and tendencies collected on the field throughout the year.
 - NEAR Future tech: FIFA developers have worked with the EA Sports product design team to create a level of immersion achieved through the latest advancements in motion capture technology. The game will utilise six-axis, higher-resolution motion capture and the latest Player Impact Engine, which makes every impact on the player come to life with true, authentic player reaction.
 - Elevated Player Identity: FIFA gamers will witness an improved, hyper-realistic animation system that allows the game to display more intricate detail without compromising on the resolution at which the player is displayed.
 - Refined Player controls: FIFA maintains its close control system, but with superior automation to effectively give gamers more player input. Every part of the game's ball control system is now 100% control and player oriented.
 - Improved Visual and Visual Information: FIFA 22 will feature a whole new suite of innovative game visual effects. Player attributes and talents will now be much easier to make out in the game, and the overall presentation has been cleaned up and much crisper to improve the overall experience.
 - Further Balance Changes: To help address the issues that have been identified in gameplay, FIFA 22 will include strong tweaks to player behaviors, improved AI, and more realistic collisions, including greater responses to when-and-where the ball is touched by defenders and pressure.
 - New defensive controls: EA Sports has also added in a suite of new defensive controls that make defending as tough as attacking. FCs will be given more commands when put under pressure to boost the overall game's defensive tactics. This new defensive control system also provides more room for improvement and adjustments, making the game even more fun to play.

- Instant Game-changing VFX: The game and gameplay industry has moved massively towards achieving more realistic visual effects. FIFA 22 will include gameplay options that will enable gamers to play with full, game-changing game visual effects that are more realistic to the action on the field, making the game seem like a true experience.
- Refined Player AI: The game will be able to react to when-and-where the
